Metro

Try another way to go during MyFigueroa construction.

The MyFiguroa Streetscape Project (MyFig) will bring safety improvements for bicycle and transit users — and a better Figueroa for us all. Construction is happening in 2016 and 2017. MYFIGUEROA.COM

FIG OUT METRO

Now is a better time than ever to start riding Metro regularly or to try transit for the first time. The Metro Silver Line bus service and the Metro Expo Line light rail are both fast options for getting between the USC area and downtown and are an easy way to avoid construction. Metro rail and bus services can also serve longer distance commuter trips into downtown. Check routes and schedules at metro.net to plan your trip!

FIG OUT A BIKE ROUTE

If you normally bike on Figueroa to get from Downtown to South LA, try alternate routes like Grand or Flower. Be sure to keep your bike tuned up so it's ready for Downtown LA's first protected bike lane coming to Figueroa in 2016!

FIG OUT TRAFFIC

Check Waze, Google Maps, or other real-time traffic apps for up-to-date traffic conditions and suggestions for alternate routes. Consider using rideshare to avoid parking for special events.

FIG OUT HOW TO GET TO BUSINESSES

All businesses on Figueroa will be open during MyFiguroa construction. Try alternate north/south streets or alternate ways to go, like taking Metro or biking, which can be faster than driving when there's traffic.

FIG OUT HOW TO GET TO EVENTS

Events at the Coliseum, Staples Center, and the Convention Center create a lot of traffic on surrounding streets. During MyFiguroa Construction, it's even more important to consider traveling to these events by other means than driving, like Metro or rideshare. If you drive, try alternate streets to head North or South, like Vermont, Flower, or Grand.

LOOK OUT FOR EACH OTHER ON FIG

MyFiguroa will be designed for people in cars, bikes, and on foot to share the street safely and equitably. During construction, we should all be even more alert to look out for each others' safety. When driving, be patient and extra vigilant for people walking or biking. When biking, obey the same signals and traffic laws as cars and avoid riding in unexpected places like the sidewalk or in the opposite direction of traffic. And when walking, take extra caution when crossing the street, since signals and street conditions will be different than before.
